

Live like a Laird

Your own private castle in Scotland is only hours away! Within 30 minutes' drive from Glasgow Airport you could be unpacking your bags in a beautiful ancient house, the oldest part of which was built before Scotland's "Braveheart"; William Wallace, was even born.

The castle has been sensitively updated throughout the centuries and now offers elegant luxurious accommodation with all modern comforts in a genuinely historic setting. This is not a hotel but a private home, available to individuals or, on a private basis, to groups of between 6 and 25 people.

Ideally placed for shopping, country sports and city culture, this castle will provide an unforgettable taste of Scotland. Golfers note - Turnberry, Prestwick, Royal Troon and other challenging courses are dangerously close by!

Or what about an elegant Georgian mansion house on an island, only one hour from Glasgow Airport including the short ferry crossing? Truly beautiful surroundings, fabulous food and the warmest of welcomes from the resident owners combine with gorgeous west coast scenery, wildlife and so many interesting sightseeing and activity options that you will be spoiled for choice.

For full details of these and similar properties, plus sample itineraries, contact Scotland By Design